The Asian Institute of Tourism (AIT) was established as a degree-granting unit of the University on 26 February 1976 when the Board of Regents confirmed a Memorandum of Agreement earlier entered into between UP, the Department of Tourism (DOT), and the Philippine Tourism Authority (PTA). The agreement called for UP to institute and administer a baccalaureate program in tourism and the DOT-PTA to provide the necessary physical facilities in the form of a building and support equipment. The AIT was created to answer the increasing demand for professional managers, planners, educators, researchers, and staff personnel in the tourist trade as well as to cope with the needs of the growing industry.

PROGRAMS OFFERED

UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAM

The AIT offers the BS in Tourism degree. The program requires a student to take 47 courses equivalent to 150 units. Around 45 units are general education subjects. The remaining units consist of 19 required tourism subjects; five tourism electives, six units of which could be for study of one foreign language; and internship of 360 hours. The subjects cover general management, accounting and finance, marketing and promotions, tourism laws, tourism planning and development, and courses that discuss the various facets of the tourism industry.

ADMISSION POLICIES/REQUIREMENTS

To be admitted into the program, students have to pass the UPCAT. Students applying for transfer from other Universities may also be admitted, provided they meet the following requirements: 1) completion of at least 30 units of general education; and 2) satisfactory weighted average for courses taken.

Applicants are accepted on the basis of: 1) evaluation of grades; 2) interview results; and 3) the quota set by the Institute.

PRIVATE SCHOLARSHIPS

Students may avail themselves of two private scholarships. The first is the AIT scholarship, which covers all school fees, as well as provides book and living allowances. Up to four students can be awarded the AIT scholarship. The second is the SKAL Club of Manila scholarship, which provides the same benefits, but only to one awardee.

SERVICES AND FACILITIES

In line with AIT's mission to develop innovative leaders in tourism development and to provide relevant education, research and extension services to tourism stakeholders, the Institute offers a range of services. It initiates and coordinates studies for the academe, industry, government, local communities, and other stakeholders; helps solve issues in the tourism industry including but not limited to: mechanisms to effectively implement public-private partnerships in the tourism field, measurement of tourism activity, manpower development, and destination planning and development; publishes and disseminates research findings on the various aspects of tourism. Research dissemination and training extension are conducted via the organization of conferences, seminars, workshops, and education programs for those actively, or interested to be, involved in tourism. These activities are undertaken by using the latest in educational technology, having a wide range of tourism books and journals, and assembling the strongest faculty in tourism education and research in the country.

The AIT is located along Commonwealth Avenue, within the UP-Ayala Technology Park. The whole building is a wi-fi zone, enabling convenient access to the world wide web. The Institute's library contains more than 7,200 titles of tourism books and periodicals – the biggest and most up-to-date compilation in the country. Undergraduate theses from 1980 have been compiled in hard and digital copies. The Institute also has a computer laboratory, an audio-visual room, and a seminar room .
