On 24 August 1995, the Board of Regents approved the proposal to establish the Archaeological Studies Program (ASP)<sup>a</sup> in U.P. Diliman. The Program oversees and coordinates instructional, research, and extension activities pertaining to the systematic discovery, reclamation, analysis, interpretation, and preservation of the material remains of ancestral Southeast Asian and Filipino cultures. Established as an intercollegiate and inter-disciplinary program, ASP is headed by a Director and is attached to the Office of the Chancellor. It has a Coordinating Council to develop and administer the degree programs offered. The Council is chaired by the Chancellor, with the Deans of the following colleges as members: Archaeological Studies Program, College of Arts and Letters, College of Engineering, College of Science, College of Social Science and Philosophy, College of Architecture, and Asian Center.

PROGRAMS OFFERED

Diploma in Archaeology

It is a one-year program for the following:

- 1) students who are interested in pursuing a graduate degree in archaeology, but who are constrained to pursue a higher graduate degree in view of the demands and/or requirements of their full-time jobs and
- 2) those who want to pursue a Ph.D. in Archaeology, but whose master's degree is not in archaeology.

MULTI-DISCIPLINARY PROGRAM

Master in Archaeology (MA & MS)

The course is offered to students who want a formal training in archaeology, archaeological research, and extension activities pertaining to the systematic discovery, reclamation, analysis, interpretation, and preservation of the material remains of our cultural past.

PhD in Archaeology

It is offered to students who have the potential to be leaders and trendsetters in heritage research and who have the capabilities to transform the landscape of heritage work and maintain technical competence for basic research.

ADMISSION POLICIES/REQUIREMENTS

The general rules of the University on admission are followed for all applicants. In addition, all applicants have to undergo interviews and evaluation by a screening committee.

Applicants whose respective master's degrees are in other disciplines must first take all the core courses required for the Diploma in Archaeology before they can apply for the PhD in Archaeology program.

Additional Requirement for a PhD Program Applicant

A research proposal as a basis in assessing the applicant's research readiness to complete a PhD in Archaeology

Units earned in the Diploma program may be credited to the MA/MS program.
