The University of the Philippines College of Fine Arts (UPCFA) is the oldest arts and design educational institution in the country. In 2008, the CFA celebrated its centennial.

Its history can be traced back to the early 19th century, when the country's first art school, the Academia de Dibujo y Pintura, was founded on 08 October 1823 by Damian Domingo in Binondo, Manila with the help of the Sociedades Económicas de Amigos del Pais (Economic Society of Friends of the Country). It was closed in 1834 but was reopened by the Spanish government eleven (11) years later in 1845 with the support of Queen Isabela II.

The second Academia brought over Spanish art professors who introduced European Classical traditions in art-making. It produced artists such as Simon Flores, who won a silver medal at the Philadelphia Universal Exposition of 1876—the first Filipino of native blood to win a prize from an international exhibition—and Juan Luna, whose Spoliarium won a gold medal at the Madrid Exposition of Fine Arts in 1884. In 1891, the Academia became the Escuela Superior de Pintura y Grabado.

In 1908, the Philippine Assembly under the American colonial administration enacted Act. No. 1870, establishing the University of the Philippines. The existing School of Fine Arts became one of the UP's three original founding units, along with the Philippine General Hospital and the College of Agriculture.

For more than a century now, the UP College of Fine Arts remains steadfast in its vision to be the eminent learning institution for arts and design, imbued with a deep sense of humanity that inspires the Filipino to strive for excellence. The UPCFA commits itself to the task of nurturing career artists dedicated to the perfection of their craft and the enrichment of Philippine society.

The institution has so far produced ten National Artists for Visual Arts, the highest state distinction given to Filipino artists: Fernando Amorsolo, Guillermo Tolentino, Carlos Francisco, Napoleon Abueva, Vicente Manansala, Cesar Legaspi, José Joya Jr., Abdulmari Imao, Benedicto Cabrera, and Federico Alcuaz.

The history of the school runs parallel not only to the history of the UP, but also to the history of the development of Philippine art and art education in the country.

PROGRAMS OFFERED

Bachelor of Fine Arts in Visual Communication

Certificate of Fine Arts in Visual Communication

The program aims to produce students who are problem-solvers, independent and creative thinkers, and excellent visual and verbal communicators. The program aims to train artists adept in the language of visual design, including typography, illustration, and layout. It also emphasizes the use of various visual design formats to effectively reach out to target audiences.

Bachelor of Fine Arts in Industrial DesignCertificate of Fine Arts in Industrial Design

The program aims to train industrial designers who are skilled in developing new designs, innovating existing products, and providing specifications for production. It focuses on developing design solutions that integrate Philippine traditional and indigenous expression with current global trends, and trains students to keenly perceive the changing needs of the market.

Bachelor of Fine Arts in PaintingCertificate of Fine Arts in Painting

The developments of perceptual and technical skills are given equal importance in the Painting curriculum. The visual expression of an idea requires not only an experimentation and exploration of the students' creative expression but also of their intellect.

Active dialogues between students and faculty provide the context for the investigation of the structure of the visual language, through analysis and evaluation. Students are encouraged to freely explore the possibilities of painting in terms of conceptualization, techniques, and methodology. Opportunities are given to exhibit on-campus and in select venues to expose the works to larger audiences, as training and preparation for the students' future exhibitions as practicing artists.

Bachelor of Fine Arts in SculptureCertificate of Fine Arts in Sculpture

Three-dimensional form in relation to materials, process, and content is the essence of the sculpture program. The curriculum offers courses in varied sculptural media, both traditional and contemporary. The student undergoes training in conceptualization, analysis, and evaluation of artistic concerns. Sculptural issues are explored within broad contexts beyond idea and their expression.

Bachelor of Fine Arts in Art History

The program aims to produce scholars who can competently study concepts and processes within the visual arts, contextualizing the work of art within its historical and aesthetic framework. It focuses on research documentation and critical analysis. Exposure to studio training also equips students with technical knowledge of the artist's tools, techniques, and materials.

Bachelor of Fine Arts in Art Education

The program aims to train artist-teachers for the elementary and secondary school levels. It focuses on providing the student with a wide understanding of the creative process through studio training in the visual arts and courses in formal education.

Master of Fine Arts

The Graduate Program of the UPCFA in its aim to be a prime resource of knowledge and expertise, should provide optimum professional training in the field of visual arts and design practice. The Graduate Program as a venue of creative expression also expects itself to lead in enrichment of the country's artistic legacy. With its expected research output and creative work, it hopes to contribute to the definition of regional and national identities. Cognizant of this vision, the Master of Fine Arts Curricular Program offering aims to:

Address the need for an advanced and higher degree of education in the visual arts and design;

Enrich critical awareness on issues affecting the role of the visual arts in community development;

Cultivate moral, social, and cultural awareness and responsibilities in answer to the increasing needs of promoting regional and national identity; and

Enhance, promote, and improve professional competencies for the intellectual advancement of artists and art educators towards meeting global standards for arts and design.

COURSE OFFERINGS

UNDERGRADUATE

Industrial Design (D)

- 20 Introduction to Industrial Design I. The study of the structural, perceptual and spatial properties of well-ordered form in the process of design. Prereq: FA 11, 13, 15. 3 u.
- 21 Introduction to Industrial Design II. Continuation of D 20. 3 u.
- 22 Techniques III. Computer-aided design and drafting for industrial design applications. Prereq: FA 13. 3 u.
- 23 Techniques IV. 3D digital imaging for design generation and presentation in industrial design. 3 u.
- 24 Industrial Design Workshop I. Explorations in non-traditional media and techniques. Prereq: FA 11, 13, 15. 3 u.
- 25 Industrial Design Workshop II. Continuation of D 24. 3 u.
- 26 Materials III. The study and use of materials in relation to contemporary design in industry. Prereq: FA 15. 3 u.
- 27 Materials IV. Continuation of D 26. 3 u.
- 29 Ergonomics. Fundamental concepts of human factors in design. Prereq: D 20, 22, 24, 26. 3 u.
- 30 Visual Interface Design. Study and application of the fundamental principles in the design of visually communicated information. Prereq: FA 11,13. 3 u.
- 150 Intermediate Industrial Design I. Design concepts, methodologies and theories of utilitarian forms. Prereq: All sophomore FA courses. 3 u.
- 151 Intermediate Industrial Design II. Continuation of D 150. 3 u.
- 152 Advanced Industrial Design. Comprehensive problem analysis on definition and execution of product design projects. Prereq: D 195. 3 u.
- 160 Package Design I. Design concepts, methodologies and theories of packaging. Prereq: All sophomore courses. 3 u.
- 161 Package Design II. Continuation of D 160. 3 u.
- 170 Systems Design I. Design concepts, methodologies and theories of interrelated functional structures. Prereq: All sophomore FA courses. 3 u.
- 171 Systems Design II. Continuation of D 170. 3 u.
- 193 Professional Seminar/Workshop. Concentrated production work experience in any major area of specialization. Prereq: D 152, 195. 3 u.

- 195 Practicum. Apprenticeship in the Design Departments of agencies. Prereq: All junior courses. 3 u.
- 196 Design Management. Managing the design process from concept to retail. Prereq: SS. 3 u.
- 197 Special Topics in Industrial Design. Application of industrial design principles in professional practice. Prereq: D 152, VC 28. 3 u.
- 200 Industrial Design Thesis. Industrial design research project in any major area of specialization. Prereq: FA 199. 3 u.

GENERAL EDUCATION COURSES

Fine Arts (FA)

- 28^a Arts in the Philippines. Art and art making the Filipino way. 3 u.
